3. Graphic Material

Figures, i.e. illustrations and pictures should be set into the body of the text at appropriate point, close to where they are referenced in the text and not grouped together at the end of the paper. Place the pictures between paragraphs and centre them between the margins. Figures layout should be in line with text. You should put a picture to the table with two lines, the first line should be used for a picture and the second line should be used for caption of the picture (Figure 1). The table should be with no border.
If you want to put two or more pictures side-by-side across the width of the page, putting them into a table with the appropriate number of columns allows you to place their captions beneath them correctly (Figure 2).

Pictures in the table should be centred horizontally and vertically. Photographs should be scanned in and placed in the text just as other figures. They should be labelled in sequence with the other figures. Figures have to be made in high quality, which is suitable for reproduction and print (in order to achieve good quality reproduction it is recommended that pictures be scanned in at 300 dpi). Colour photographs must be converted into greyscale ones. Please insert picture with Insert command and not with Link to file command. Generally please make sure that all the objects are actually embedded in your file and not just linked to other files on your hard disk.

Equations should be centred and numbered consequently, from (1) upwards and please use Microsoft Equation Editor 2.0 or 3.0. Equations should be placed into table which is of one row and two columns. The first column contains the equation and the second is dedicated to references. The table should be with no border.

$$ UPF = \frac{\sum\limits_{290}^{400} E_\lambda\, S_\lambda\, \Delta_\lambda}{\sum\limits_{290}^{400} E_\lambda\, S_\lambda\, T_\lambda\, \Delta_\lambda} \tag{1} $$

Tables like figures should be placed in the text close to where they are first referred to. Treat them like figures but place the caption above the table as shown for Table 1. Use first no bordered row for table caption.
